Chthonic Force –

Delirium Tremens: The Best of Chthonic Force

Chthonic Force is the joint project of Vadge Moore (ex-Dwarves / Phoenix Thunderstone) and Wendy Van Dusen (Neither/Neither World). Venturing into the realms of Industrial, Power Electronics, Experimental, Noise, and Ambient, their work has traversed not only the boundaries of musical genre, but conventional morality as well.

In the late 1990s and early 2000s, Chthonic Force released two full-length studio albums (1999's Chthonic Force and 2003's Agathodaemon), a split single (Mouth Pigs), and appeared on several compilations. Their collaborations included work with underground luminaries such as Peter Sotos (Whitehouse), Monte Cazazza (Throbbing Gristle / Industrial Records), Boyd Rice (NON), Cole Palme (Faktrix) and Thomas Thorn (The Electric Hellfire Club).

Delirium Tremens: The Best of Chthonic Force, includes the choicest cuts from Chthonic Force's albums, singles, collaborations, and compilation appearances. Originally released in 2007 as a limited edition of 100 signed-and-numbered CDRs, this 2020 reissue is presented as a non-limited Digipack CD, digitally remastered by Bob Ferbrache at Absinthe Studio.

Vadge Moore has been interviewed on various radio shows and podcasts (KZSU, Dark Sun Rising, The Book of Very Very Bad Things, and others), as well as given interviews to websites and print magazines (The Aither, Modern Drunkard, Punk Globe, Sleazegrinder, and others). Moore has also authored several books released through various publishers, including his 2022 punk rock memoir, My Life With The Dwarves.
